DR. FLETCHER

At recent ceremonies at the Duke Chapel in Durham, Duke University awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree to A. J. Fletcher, Chief Executive Officer of Capitol Broadcasting Company, Inc. The award was made by Duke President, Terry Sanford, who cited Fletcher's contribution to the cultural life of the state and nation by the founding of the National Opera Company, which has brought opera in English to more than 1,300,000 school children in this state. The Duke President also made mention of the grants he had made to several educational institutions which made possible music scholarships for deserving students.

PROGRAM CHANGES

The MONDAY NIGHT MOVIES returns at 8:30 PM; ROWAN & MARTIN (need we say more?) will be seen Mondays at 11:30 PM; LAVERNE AND SHIRLEY, a comedy about two working girls of the 1950's will be seen Tuesdays at 8:30 PM; THE BIONIC WOMAN, the female counterpart of THE SIX MILLION DOLLAR MAN, featuring Lindsay Wagner, is on Wednesdays at 8:00 PM; the singing, dancing, wise-cracking brother and sister team of DONNY & MARIE Osmond will brighten Friday nights at 8:00 PM, and THE NEIGHBORS, a game show in which couples disclose the facts about their next door friends will be seen week days at 2:30 PM. There's action, musical variety, nostalgia and movies - all new - awaiting you.

WILKINSON AWARD

While on a trip to Europe with Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, TV 5's Director Of Farm Relations, Ray Wilkinson, received the happy news that he had been named the Ciba-Geigy Outstanding Farm Broadcaster in the nation at the recent convention of the National Association of Farm Broadcasters. Ray is shown in Rome where he taped shows for his radio broadcasts.
