WRAL-TV GARDENS APPEAL TO BRIDES

The gardens at the studios on Western Boulevard are proving to be a popular place for weddings. Last year, forty six couples pledged their vows in the colorful glade. So far, there are fifteen requests for weddings during the months of May, June and July of this year.

During the azalea season thousands of visitors pay a visit to see the gardens and grounds. During the winter months shrubs and other plantings maintain a display of varied hues.

In 1974 the Association of American Nurserymen awarded a prize to A. J. Fletcher, Chief Executive Officer, for the design and maintenance of the gardens.

A modern greenhouse, with the latest in sophisticated humidity and heat controls, has just been constructed. This new addition should add to the variety of plants available for the landscaping.

THE MUNSTERS ARE HERE

An engaging gaggle of improbable monsters, who mean no harm to anyone, have taken over the channel at 5:00 PM each week day. All ghouls and boy fiends will delight in the preposterous dilemmas this hilarious family faces, and their solutions to the problems. Movie buffs will recognize Lynn Bari, a one-time Queen Of The Desert spectaculars, in a leading role.

ADAM 12, a modern day police adventure series is new on TV5 at 5:30 PM.
