WRAL - TV

NBC
REPRESENTED BY H-R

RALEIGH, N.C.

VOLUME 4 - NUMBER 6

JUNE - 1961

DUNCAN AT NAB CONVENTION

Virgil Duncan, Channel Five's Chief Engineer, chaired the engineering program at the annual meeting of the National Association of Broadcasters in Washington, May 7-10. Among the honored speakers was President John F. Kennedy, shown here with Duncan on the left, who visited the Convention with Astronaut Alan Shepard.

IT'S BASEBALL TIME

Channel Five will again sponsor youth baseball teams in organized leagues in Raleigh, Durham, Burlington, Rocky Mount and Fayetteville. Viewers in these cities are invited out to see these teams in action.

MOVIE FANS, NOTE!

Channel Five has just purchased a Warner Bros. film package, the Seven Arts release number 1. Viewers will be enjoying such stars as John Wayne, Jane Powell, Gary Cooper, James Dean, Joan Crawford, Virginia Mayo, Robert Mitchum and others. Watch for them!

STUDENT TOURS

Thousands of North Carolina school children visited and toured the Channel Five studios and gardens during May. For many school classes a visit to the Capital City is one of the school highlights of the year - and a good portion of these groups find their way to WRAL-TV studios.

CINDERELLA ON TV

The Rossini comedy CINDERELLA (LaCenerentola) will be telecast on Channel Five at 3:30 PM, Sunday June 4. The show was video-taped last month by the National Opera Company at the end of a three-month tour of the nation. This show was widely acclaimed throughout the country.

The leading role will be portrayed by Patricia Fraher of Missoula, Montana, who joined the Company after three years study in Vienna.
