40,000 EYE CHARTS !

There will be thousands of eye-conscious youngsters in the Channel 5 area if distribution of eye charts is any criterion. CAP'N 5, in cooperation with the North Carolina Optometric Society, gave away over 40,000 eye charts to the viewers of his day-time show. Dr. Frank Day is shown with the popular emcee. ★

CORRECTION

In the April TeleNewsLetter we made mention of Sunday baseball. Because of circumstances over which we have no control, Channel 5 is not permitted to carry Sunday baseball, BUT, tune in each Saturday afternoon for a major league contest. ★

DATELINE NEWSCASTER

You'll be seeing a new face on the DATELINE news (Monday-Friday, 11:00 P. M.). Bob Caudle, a veteran newscaster, and a new addition to the Channel 5 staff, takes over the late news assignment in early May. ★

CARY BAND TELETHON - A SUCCESS

Sunday, April 8 proved to be quite a day for the Cary High School Band. That was the day they realized their goal of $7,500 needed to finance a trip to Mason City, Iowa where the young musicians participate in a national contest. The Cary Band was selected, from taped auditions, to represent North Carolina. Channel 5 made available its facilities and personnel to stage a telethon which lasted for five hours. Fred Fletcher, the station's Executive Vice President, acted as emcee and ended the day in a whisper. Pictured above are the participants, including talent and production crew. ★

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT - PRO AND CON

A debate on whether capital punishment should be abolished will be telecast on April 29, 5:00 - 6:00 P. M. Attorney Malcolm Seawell, former judge and Attorney General of North Carolina, will speak for the retention of capital punishment, while playwright Paul Green, Pulitzer Prize author and UNC professor, will speak for the abolition of same. ★
